The Elsa and Helmer Borgsten Foundation Scholarship Fund

Name	The Elsa and Helmer Borgsten Foundation Scholarship Fund
Municipality	Dregs
Category	Studies
Purpose	The foundation's return shall, when 15% of the annual return has been added to the capital, be distributed to a male or female parishioner in Grums, who should not be older than 25 when they first receive a dividend from the fund, and awarded to those who wish to train in a profession through studies at an educational institution with a more or less strong vocational emphasis. By such schools is meant workshop schools, technical schools or institutes, agricultural or farmer schools, farm housekeeping schools, forestry schools, weaving or crafts schools, nursing schools, trade schools, theological seminaries or other comparable institutions for vocational education as well as folk high schools. Anyone who, during the course of lower vocational education in the educational institutions listed above, shows a good aptitude for continued education at a higher educational institution and who wants to gain such education but lacks sufficient financial resources for this, should also be able to be awarded scholarships from the foundation's fund. The distribution must also be able to be given as a travel scholarship to those who demonstrably want to gain increased insight into their profession through a study trip. Distribution of this latter type may, however, take place in exceptional cases where there are special reasons for this. Anyone who has previously received funds from the fund for studies and has used them well should have priority when receiving a travel grant. Should the youth's need for scholarships for studies continue to decrease, the fund's returns should be distributed to a greater extent as travel scholarships. Applicants for distributions from the fund in any form should be known for their impeccable conduct. Preference for receiving dividends from the fund shall be given to: 1. Helmer Borgsten's nieces and nephews and their children and grandchildren, but not later descendants, regardless of where they are registered. 2. The applicant who actively participates in Grums Mission parish's junior or youth association activities, and who is preferably a member of the parish. This is provided that the applicant fulfills the other stated conditions. If a suitable applicant cannot be appointed or if no one registers for the scholarship, that year's return should be added to the capital. However, in such a case, the persons who manage the foundation's fund may decide on a distribution for another purpose, which can be considered consistent with the foundation's purpose.

Emelie and Oscar Bjelke's foundation

Name	Emelie and Oscar Bjelke's foundation
Municipality	Östersund
Category	Several

Purpose	According to the will, after certain legacies have expired, the estate must be handed over to Svenska Handelsbanken's notary department in Östersund for administration. 1. The fund must be kept invested in the best values, which are protected against inflation as much as possible, and which give a return. This shall, upon application, in the manner and under the conditions set out below, be used annually to prepare study assistance for a suitable number of underprivileged young male or female students in Jämtland. The purpose of this assistance shall primarily be to facilitate the recipient's ability to pay for his or her travel to and from the school city and, subject to availability of funds, also his or her stay there. By "school city" is meant every place within the province of Jämtland, where such an educational institution exists, where it is now or will continue to be possible to take a matriculation exam or a graduation exam from the Technical Education Agency, or another equivalent exam. 2. Otherwise, the following conditions shall apply to receiving study aid from the fund: That the student himself was born and lives in the province; that at least one of his parents is also or was born in Jämtland; that the student is enrolled as a student in one of the educational institutions specified above; that he or she lives so far from the school city that the travel cost constitutes a not insignificant expense in relation to other costs for the studies. - The meaning is that grants from the fund should be and also feel like a good help for a deserving student. 3. Support from the fund must be distributed annually for one academic year at a time and the return may not be funded. The same applicant can receive support several academic years in a row until graduation.

purpose	The foundation's purpose is primarily to promote development work concerning such technical aids for the disabled that provide opportunities for extended active life, primarily through increased mobility indoors and outdoors and to work to ensure that these aids become known, produced and come into use on favorable financial terms for the individual. The foundation's purpose is, secondarily, to support such scientific research, which is expected to result in new technical aids, as well as to recreate the mobility and communication capabilities of the disabled in a neurological and operative way or in other ways.
